The engagement of Miss Patterson and Casimir de Rham was announced last spring, and the wedding ceremony was held in the middle of September at Southampton.

Victory Pageant to Celebrate Fourth At Sulphur Springs

Greenbrier Resorts Plan New Concoctions to Take Place of J. Barleycorn When Dry Law Starts

Special Correspondence
WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., June 28.—White Sulphur Springs is to have a Victory Celebration on the Fourth that will surpass any patriotic demonstration ever held here, and during those years of the war there were many occasions when the resort "went over the top" on Liberty loan drives, war relief drives, Red Cross and other work.

A parade in which 150 overseas men will participate and in which all the various war works will be represented will take place during the forenoon. Aviator Richter of White Sulphur Springs, who served in the American aviation force overseas, will give an exhibition of flying. It will be the first airplane to penetrate the West Virginia mountains, and natives from far back in the mountains are anticipating the celebration with eagerness.

Baseball and field sports will take place at the White Sulphur Park during the afternoon, and among some of the events to be featured are running races, obstacle races and a comedy number in which the men will trim hats for the women.

The Fourth will mark the opening of the grill in the Greenbrier. Sandwiches and "soft drinks" will be served there and at 11 o'clock dancing will attract the entire colony. The special refreshments served are named after the cottage rows. Some of them are: South Carolina horse neck, Colonnade apple juice highball, Virginia Dare wine, Patterson root-beer, the old white julien and Florida orange cocktail. Tansus Riskey and Greenbrier punch and the Baltimore cherry cocktail promise to be popular.

The Greenbrier grill will be at White Sulphur Springs where the Palm Room is to Palm Beach.

Mrs. Marshall Opens Cottage
Mrs. Chauncey Marshall, of New York, is at her cottage in Tansus Row, where she has with her Mrs. A. G. Moffatt, also of New York. Miss Edith G. Marshall, who devoted her winter to war work with the Emergency Aid, will arrive soon to remain through July.

Mr. Barton French, of New York, spent part of the week at the Greenbrier, coming over from Hot Springs, where he has a cottage. He went up to New York on his private car, making a flying trip, and on his return motored back to Hot Springs accompanied by Major R. F. Birney, U. S. A.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Little, of Atlanta, Ga., have arrived from New York, where they spent some time, and have opened their cottage in South Carolina Row for the summer. C. Gustave Mounelle, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jordan and Miss Anne Jordan, Mrs. Charles W. Rendigs, Miss Ethel Sinclair and Herbert D. Oppenheimer are among arrivals from New York this week.

Mrs. Charles M. Chapin, of Berneville, N. J., is at the Greenbrier until late July and Mrs. Charles Wilcox, who came down the first of June, will remain through the summer.

Motor from New York
Motoring here from New York last week were Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Wise, John S. Wise, Jr., and Lieutenant Hugh Cummings. They stopped at the Greenbrier over Sunday and have since made a tour of the Alleghenies. Mr. and Mrs. William H. Cocks and Miss Charlotte Cocks, of St. Louis, also came from New York by automobile.

Riding at White Sulphur has received an impetus this month, as Lawrence Dickinson, manager of the Greenbrier Hunt, has added eight thoroughbred hunters and jumpers from the famous Blue Grass region of Virginia and Kentucky to his string. The younger set here for the summer will participate in the horse show in August are out on the green hunters daily assisting Mr. Dickinson in their schooling.
